About This Content

Face down fantastic foes with this peerless package of top-notch firepower designed for Strange Brigade agents in the field!
With three new firearms perfectly balanced for the discerning adventurer, the Secret Service Weapons Pack includes:

WILKERS & WHITE P19 (Pistol)

Love to shoot the supernatural? Hate wasting ammo? You're in luck! With its butter-smooth handling the P19 pistol takes accuracy to new heights.

STOUDENMIRE 960 (Submachine gun)

The Stoudenmire may not be the heaviest of fellows, but when it fires over 900 rounds per minute with alarming accuracy, it'll do far more than just bruise a beasty!

GEHRI-DELGANE S1 (Rifle)

This one-of-a-kind collaboration from Gehrig and Delgane packs a punch like no-other, but takes nerves of steel, or a damn fine schnapps, to master its brutish strength!

strange brigade secret service weapons pack

Anyone nostalgic for Choplifter should find enjoyment here. I wouldn't recommend paying more than $2-$3 dollars for it, though. It has a simple control scheme, charming voxel graphics, and gameplay that shines in the wide open maps. When it comes to navigating caverns, however, things can get frustrating. I did complete all the missions in this game, and paid less than a dollar for it. I definitely got bang for my buck.. This one of the good game.. My favorite VR sword experience yet; just what I've been looking for and well worth the price. Very satisfying, fairly realistic, challenging, and can even make for a workout.

Pros: realistic appearance and sword physics, room-scale play, immersive zen-like feel. Sword play without violence.

Cons: playing with WMR your sword can get lost if you aren't looking at it or wind up too far (not the designer's fault, just an issue with WMR), depth can be hard to judge. Somewhat limited game-play options. Can be a little too hard to cut small fruit...but realistically so. Weilding the sword two handed like a real katana puts you at a disadvantage compared to one-handed weilders.

Future features I'm hoping for: Training option for all modes; more experiences; brief instructional video in authentic stances and movement; more types of swords--types, lengths, historical periods, maybe even from other cultures (how cool would Chinese dual-wielded Dao be?).

. I'm not going to pretend I know what's going on in the dev's lives, but they stopped loving this game. The daily twitch streams they would put on have stopped and I couldn't tell you the last time they put out an update for CubeZ. The devs are nice guys, still active on Twitter and such, but their website and steam store page seem to be wastelands. Don't bother buying the game, it's unpolished and has no playerbase, which is necessary for the arena style game that it is.. I'm very impressed with the game so far. Interesting, fun game play and soundtracks are great as well. This game is easily worth 4 dollars. Was a ABSOLUTE bargain for .79 cents... go on....BUY IT !

This one's a bit odd.

It's almost like a mobile match-3 game. It has a colourful, well-drawn map. It has colourful, well drawn game graphics. The basic game mechanics are there. And it's oddly addictive. But the developers seem to have gone a bit off-message in a few places...

For example, there are the usual bonus power-ups, but you can't buy more! Like, wtf? Also, they seem to have missed the lives counter and timer off the display for some reason (noobs), although this doesn't seem to have effected play so far. There wasn't the obligatory pay wall at about level 15 either. In fact the whole of the first section is available as a 'demo' which then asks you to buy the 'full' game to continue. For an insane amount, given this is essentially a mobile match-3 game.

In addition to these schoolboy errors, they also seem to have provided a few (I'm only at level 37 so far) innovative ideas which are actually quite fun. And the whole thing seems well optimized, runs totally fluidly, and so far hasn't crashed. You can even zoom in/out with the mouse wheel.

Come on, developers! What on earth were you thinking?!?!

Seriously though, this game rejects the business model that many (myself included) have despised for years now; the horrid IAPs. By offering a solid demo and charging a fixed amount to unlock the game without limitations, they have given us exactly what we have been asking for.

So obviously, a solid recommendation from me, on that grounds alone. If you are a casual gamer, get this game. Even if you're not a massive fan of match-3. You'll have the fuzzy warm feeling of supporting a developer who has decided to ignore the convention which has come so close to killing the casual games market for many. (It's also a rather good match-3 game, btw.). If you enjoy match 3 games this will give you tons of hours of enjoyment. 96 levels with powerups to use.

Some levels are VERY hard to get 3 stars, but be aware if you don't use a powerup from a previous level you bring it to the next, so you can go back and grind for powerups to bring to a tough level.

Level 94 is impossible without saved powerups.. I got this game in a bundle. With Post Master and Zoo Park. Post Master is good for a few hours and Zoo Park is a game you can play when you feel more like relaxed gaming. This. This is just bad. It feels the same as the others but so badly optimised for use. It seems complex and like its trying to be more than it is. I just can't get into this game. Its cheap but it still feels expensive at £3.99. It feels like a game that should be free to play online. I value this game at around £0.99 and even then I wouldn't buy it personally.. This is a spooky game with cute protagonists. The visuals are fantastic and the gameplay mechanics are well explored. It's a good game for that annual Halloweeny feel.. Everything about the costume itself is PERFECT! The only problem about this DLC is that there's no Ver.ke version of X's armors. If it weren't for that, then I'd give this a 10/10. So, I'd give this an 8/10 for the effort that was at least put into the Ver.ke X costume.. A short survival horror game if you want to call it that. Most of the items are not needed such as the flashlight. There are 3 different guns you can get only real difference is rate of fire. Most of the rooms are basically all the same and the Steam Achievements are a joke. Were finishing the game should be an achievement you get some for dying a lot of times. Since I was able to finish without dying I had to go back in the game up to 25 times just to die so I can get all achievements. If I haven't gotten this game for free I would probably be upset had I paid of it. The concept isn't bad but the effort put into it is.. Pretty good game with big potential!!!. I tried the demo, played a few videos, and was quite impressed with it.

I had a few other Media-Players installed on my computer, but right away I could notice better crispness, clarity and an overall greater quality of the video and audio that I see and hear with Zoom Player. I like the simplicity and intuitive feel of the controls, yet there are still a lot of options available that I can experiment with and set things to how I like. This will now be my default Media Player, and I'm glad to have bought the full version to help support the Developers of this high-quality software.

PS: As for the argument I see from some, "Why buy Zoom Player when there's plenty of free media-players available?".... Well, call me strange, but I like to help support the Developers of programs I enjoy and use.

Yes, there's free media-players out there, but they also tend to have a "Donate" option some place on their website or an option to upgrade to a Pro version. Plus, there's also a free-version of Zoom-Player that can be downloaded as well.. I Can't get the Refund. Short, but a pretty amazing game. Makes you think and has an epic storyline to follow. Highly recommended for puzzle game fans.
